Please plan to join us on April 24, 2022 when we honor our 2022 award recipients. The selection of these four outstanding recipients continues the tradition set in 2020 recognizing our 60th anniversary. You are invited to join us as we honor these outstanding Callawegians. A highlight of the afternoon will be the program speaker, Dr. Rachel Price, who has just completed an updated look at Kings Row, by Henry Bellaman, and its forward-thinking approaches presented by the author. See pages 3-4 for full details on our Annual Meeting and Awards Program, and see pages 6-7 for more information on Henry Bellamann.

KCHS Trivia Night 2022 Another Success!

John Tyler, our tenth president, was the featured president at the 9th annual KCHS President's Day Trivia Night on February 26, 2022. With a full house of ten tables, due to Covid concerns, the crowd had a lively time discussing a wide array of topics and questions, playing heads or tails and Dead or Alive. See page 4 for team winners and highlights.

From the President - Victor Pasley

I first want to thank you, our members, for the opportunity to serve as your President of the Board of KCHS. I have some big shoes to fill recognizing the outstanding leadership provided by Mike Auer over the last 3 years. The Kingdom of Callaway Historical Society is well positioned to deliver the next level of services supporting our Mission: To collect, preserve and share the history of Callaway County with all generations.

On January 24, 2022 we conducted our annual planning meeting with all board members and volunteers. The KCHS team came together to debate and dialogue a series of initiatives that you will see come to fruition in 2022. We have three new board members that have joined our team that have unique skills in the areas of future services to be provided by KCHS. As we maintain such traditions as Trivia Night and our annual fashion shows, you will also see some exciting new services like Life Long Learning (Triple L). We will expand our technology capabilities as it relates to our Facebook pages and Website as well as expand our services in the Research Center.

Last year we moved our Annual meeting from October to the spring of the year. On April 24, 2022 I encourage you to join us for an exciting ANNUAL MEETING 2022. It will be a Sunday Luncheon at the Brick District Playhouse—Fulton. We are excited by the program that has been planned with featured speaker: Dr. Rachael Price on Kings Row by Henry Bellamann.

Lastly, I would like to hear from you and learn what more KCHS can be doing to meet your desires for preserving and sharing the history of Callaway County and how we can get your friends and neighbors that have lived or have an association with Callaway County to become members and volunteers of our great society. I'm excited about KCHS plans for 2022,

Our 2022 Award Recipients

Individual Callaway County Historic Preservation Award

Kelly English Borman

Kelly Borman loves people and helping to make good things happen!

In 2020 we were all suffering from the impact of Covid and having to stay separated from others. It was also KCHS's 60th anniversary and Callaway's 200th, and little could be done to celebrate either. Kelly had other ideas! As a KCHS volunteer she brought us the idea of having a 'selfie' scavenger hunt to 20 Callaway locations to get folks out and about in a safe manner and still have a good time learning about Callaway County. Kelly looked over maps, talked with landowners and businesses, met with local officials, sent tons of texts, emails and Facebook posts, and finally had the Scavenger Hunt ready to go. It was a great success! The following year, she then organized another Scavenger Hunt to recognize Missouri's 200th anniversary and expanded the event into the 5 neighboring counties. This unique and popular idea has brought Callaway history to all ages and helped preserve our heritage. We are proud to present Kelly with this preservation award!

Corporate Callaway County Historic Preservation Award

New Bloomfield Area Historical Society

With a mission to provide current, former and potential residents of our community with the means to make our history their own through the collection, preservation, and sharing of our historic images, documents and artifacts.

The New Bloomfield Area Historical Society was founded in 2006 by a group of dedicated individuals. Together they developed a collection of artifacts, build a building to house them and hold regular meetings with programs dedicated to educating the public on area history. Early leaders include Gracia Yancey Backer, Martin Bryan, Nick Dozier, Bonnie Lawson, Dale Lawson, A. C. Pearre, Dave West and Nancy West. We are pleased to honor NBAHS with this award.

The Barbara Dunavant Huddleston Volunteer Service Award

Michael A. (Mike) Boulware

(posthumously)

Mike Boulware was a loyal Callawegian. That included his work-life and his volunteer life.

Mike served on the KCHS board of directors for 17 years and was president in 2008–10. In this time, his favorite event was the annual Tractor Drive held each August. He helped with it each year and provided the leadership, networking and knowledge needed to make it a success. He knew the routes, the drivers, and the various folks along the way who all enjoyed taking their favorite vintage tractor out for a spin.

Mike loved his family, the Hatton community, his family farm, and all of Callaway County. He never stopped being an advocate for each of them. We are honored to remember Mike with this service award.

Sheila Burre Guthrie

Sheila always has a smile and a kind word for everyone. She exudes happiness!

Many of you know her best as a key part of KCHS Fashion and FUN shows. Others may know her as the head of the KCHS Clothing Closet, our collection of vintage clothing and quilts. For several years, she helped design the front window displays. Sheila shares her many talents with KCHS and has been a volunteer for over 14 years.

Her love of history also led her to be one of the founders of the Tebbetts Area Historical Society in 2001 and is still a valuable member. She was a lead volunteer for KCHS in 2012 for the "The Kingdom at Work" exhibit during the Smithsonian exhibit, "The Way We Worked." We are pleased to present Sheila this service award for her long and valuable service.

Featured speaker: Dr. Rachael Price
on Kings Row by Henry Bellaman

Dr. Rachel Price

Dr. Price is taking a new look at King's Row and what it says to us today. She notes, "A careful reexamination, though, reveals a novel that is not only thoughtfully written but one that also provides an important cultural touchstone in the legacy of the American small town. A contemporary reading reveals a sensitive portrayal of a small town and real issues of the day as they affected citizens of Kings Row, particularly the outsiders and the most marginalized voices in the community."

TRIVIA NIGHT 2022 - The Winning Teams!

It was another night of great questions, great answers and GREAT FUN! Trivia Night 2022 featured our tenth president, John Tyler along with questions on Snoopy, Aviation, Callaway County and Betty White.

More than 106 people gathered on Saturday evening, February 26, 2022 at Callaway Electric Cooperative to enjoy a delicious pulled pork meal, play Dead or Alive and Heads or Tails, answer challenging questions, win some door prizes and help KCHS raise funds to continue our Oral History project. A BIG thank you to our sponsors and all our players. In total, the evening raised a net of approximately $5,050. THANK YOU ALL! See you next year!

Getting to Know Henry Bellamann

Fulton-born Poet, Musician, Professor and Noted Author

With our Annual Meeting program on April 24 focusing on Henry Bellamann, we wanted to provide a look at the man and his history.

Henry Bellamann, was born in Fulton on April 28, 1882. He was a member of the Fulton High School Class of 1899. It was 1903 when he began his teaching career in music. His 'resume' would include musician, composer, music school educator and administrator but it is his writing, including three books of poetry, that made him well-known.

Bellamann published his first novel "Petenera's Daughter" in 1926. His second book followed in 1928 and was titled "Crescendo". In 1932, Bellamann wrote "The Richest Woman in Town". These three books are hard to come by today possibly due to fewer copies being printed at the time of the depression. Another novel, "Gray Man Walks," based on a legend about an island off the Carolina coast was published in 1936.

Bellamann is best known for his novel "Kings Row" published in 1940 and based on families and events in Fulton, Missouri. It landed on the best seller list when it came out in 1940 and returned to the list in 1942 when the movie was released.

Westminster College professor Jay Karr's research and republication of this novel in 1981 added an introduction, photos, a map and several stories about the author. He helped expose another generation to the writings of Henry Bellamann.

The front flap of the dust jacket of "Crescendo" entices the reader with this description: "Crescendo" is a novel of contemporary New York. Its story of changing morals is laid in Park Avenue and Gramercy Square with a background of theaters, all-night parties, studios and music It is a sympathetic study of the mind and heart of a girl of today-perhaps the "bad girl" of Park Avenue, perhaps the "good girl" of the writer's understanding". "The author is familiar with many phases of artistic life both in America and Europe. He is at present Acting Professor of Music at Vassar College".

Bellamann published two more novels, "Floods of Spring" in 1942 and "Victoria Grandolet" in 1943. He was working on a sequel to Kings Row when he died of a heart attack in 1945 in New York. His wife, Katherine, was an author in her own right and finished the novel "Parris Mitchell of Kings Row" in 1948. Katherine survived her husband by eleven years, dying in 1956. The Bellamanns had no children.

Henry Bellamann received the Légion d'Honneur from the Republic of France and an honorary musical doctorate from DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana.

Plan to attend our KCHS Annual Meeting, Luncheon and Awards event on Sunday, April 24, 2022 to hear about the new interest in Henry Bellamann and 'King's Row.'

Bellamann's Poetry

Henry Bellamann published two books of poetry, which were "Cups of Illusion" in 1923 and in 1928 "The Upward Pass". His poetry had been printed in various magazines as seen by the acknowledgment the author gives for the permission to reprint them. From "Cups of Illusion" here is:

THE RETURN

I have been very conscious of the hills
Warming their soft round backs
in the April sun,
and of the lights and winds
flowing like tides about them.
I have felt their dampness
With my hands,
and have been very close
to all the little life
busy beneath the mosques and tents
of grass and dandelions.
I have looked up from these
to the unimaginable greatness of the clouds
journeying beyond the slopes.
I have watched the twinkling rain
hurry through the orchard,
and have seen the apple blossoms
wink away the drops.
I have been silent as a tree with trees
when wood and earth were close in the intimacy of winter.

Some day I shall vanish from the town
as a face vanishes from a mirror;
then I shall go back
and be one with sun and shadow
on a pebbly bank-
the brown wall turns there,
makes a corner where the leaves
hide from the wind in autumn.

When April comes something will whisper
"He is here again,"
and half blown buds will nod
and run with long stemmed grasses and blossom and break at hilltop
like a foaming wave.

Rick Gohring

The Kingdom of Callaway Historical Society is pleased to welcome three new board members. Joining in December was Jayne Wills who brings a wealth of volunteer management, organizational skills and a strong leadership background.

In January we welcomed Rich Gohring and Meda Young. Rick is a long-time board leader, having served a variety of nonprofit organizations over the years. Meda has extensive skills in museum management and great organizational skills in events management.

RETIRING BOARD MEMBERS RECOGNIZED

At left, Mike Auer receives a certificate of appreciation from incoming president Vic Pasley for his three years of dedicated service. The certificate read in part: "Thank you for a productive and busy three years. During that time we purchased, renovated and moved into the Research Center, and conducted the 60-for-60 Campaign to fund it. You dealt with the COVID-19 pandemic, celebrated the 60th anniversary of KCHS and the 200th anniversary of Callaway County (Callaway 200), received multiple bequest gifts substantially expanding the organization's finances, and moved KCHS into more active social media."

THANK YOU MIKE!

Retiring board members included Terry Rehma, Bryant Liddle, and Jim Buffington.

Unable to be present was retiring board member Joe Link

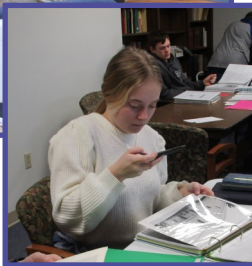

January Planning Session

Board members and all KCHS volunteers were invited to share time in planning for 2022 on Monday, January 24 at the Research Center. New board president, Vic Pasley, led the sessions that helped to focus our 2022 efforts as we continue to collect, preserve and share the history of Callaway County with all generations.

South Callaway High School Students

Utilize Research Center for Writing Assignment

Students from Mrs. Leigh Rogers' English class spent time at the Research Center on Tuesday morning, February 15, 2022, digging for facts to help add depth to their narrative stories. Some worked on the Churchill visit in 1946, others looked at life in the 1990s, others needed details of local businesses and farms and some wanted details on specific communities. Eight KCHS volunteers assisted the students and some could even provide first-hand insights.

Resources utilized included reference books on local schools, businesses, phone books, plat maps, community books and more.

Above a student takes a photo of a resource for later use. All students had submitted their narrative topics in advance so KCHS could pull appropriate reference materials.

Students and volunteers all had a great time. KCHS looks forward to reading the completed stories.

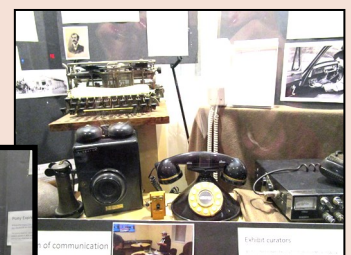

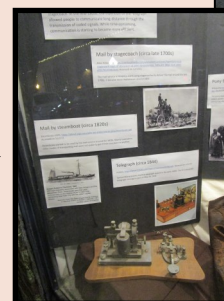

Mrs. Rogers (standing in foreground; plaid coat) brought 33 students to do historical research as part of their English writing assignment.

Westminster Students Window Display

Presented here is the winter window on 'Communications Over the Years' created by the 'Introduction to Museum Work' class at Westminster College.

The students did research and prepared various signage while KCHS helped with the artifacts. It was displayed during January and early February. Many thanks to the students for their creativity and hard work.

First Call for New Book on School House Stories

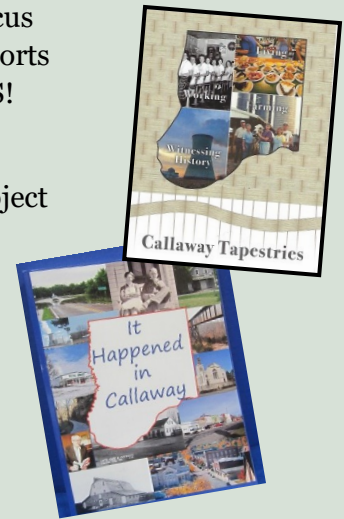

KCHS is excited to be undertaking another anthology book -- this time with a focus on school days in Callaway. Be it the one-room school house, favorite teachers, sports stories, life-lessons learned, or a love of learning ignited, we want YOUR STORIES!

The book will be published in 2023 and we need to gather stories in the coming months. There is no entry fee. Articles are not to exceed 3,000 words and are subject to approval and editing by the KCHS editorial staff. Bruce Hackmann will again serve as editor for the book. Submissions may be made electronically to museum@callawaymohistory.org or brought to the museum in person.

Deadline for submissions is November 30, 2022.

Make your favorite school day memories a lasting part of Callaway history! Plan a submission today! Questions may be directed to Bruce Hackmann at brucehackmann@gmail.com.

KCHS previous books include: It Happened in Callaway (2019) and Callaway Tapestries (2021). Both are available in the Museum Gift Shop.

Education Task Force Meets To Review Options

During Callaway 200 activities, KCHS was involved with the Education Committee, headed by Dr. Joe Davis of William Woods University. At the conclusion of Callaway 200, the Steering Committee voted to transfer remaining funds of approximately $6,000 to KCHS for use to create and provide education on Callaway County to all students in the county.

The first meeting of the Education Task Force was held on December 17, 2021 at the KCHS Museum with Joe Davis as chair. Initial members include Susan Krumm, co-chair of Callaway 200 and KCHS board member, and from KCHS, Barbara Huddleston, Nancy Lewis and Diane Burre Ludwig, all on the Callaway 200 History Committee.

January Activities Around KCHS

At the Research Center, rows of binders on county businesses have new labeling.

A new display is in the doll case at the Museum depicting four ladies quilting. It is charming!

During January KCHS is closed to the public but a great deal of work is still going on inside our museum and research center.

The Awards Display Area at the Museum was updated with new background fabric and all awards were cleaned.

Staff and volunteers use the time to clean and refresh displays, file and prepare for the new year, and do painting and repairs. Here are a few projects done during January this year.
